

Neely Bridges

---

Current Employer

Georgia Institute of Technology
Research Engineer

Neely Bridges currently works as a consultant with the Safety and Health Consultation Program at Georgia Tech. As a safety specialist, she provides on-site assessments to identify physical hazards and evaluate technical programs for construction and manufacturing companies throughout Georgia. She is also a Georgia Tech Professional Education instructor for the OSHA Training Institute.

Education

Bachelor of Science, Civil Engineering, Georgia Institute of Technology

Master of Industrial and Systems Engineering, Auburn University

Class Titles

NIOSH Lifting Equation Workshop

OSHA Recordkeeping Overview and Updates

Class Descriptions

NIOSH Lifting Equation Workshop: Participate in a hands-on workshop designed to analyze risks in the workplace related to material handling using the NIOSH Lifting Equation.

OSHA Recordkeeping Overview and Updates: Review basic OSHA recordkeeping requirements including common pitfalls, new online submission requirements, and new anti-retaliation protections.

Atlanta, GA

334-398-2141

neely.bridges@gatech.edu

oshainfo.gatech.edu

